Regulations
Export Control

It is UAA policy that all personnel, including university business in compliance with UAA policies, despite funding by a grant, contract, or other source, must apply for an export license, where appropriate, as well as UAA's Export License Procedures attached to this memo for your review.

RISKS

Qualification for an export license exemption documented by the University. Failure to obtain an export license for technology, or software in violation of UAA export control laws and policies, whether

Fundamental Research Exclusion

Most of UAA's research activities are exempt for fundamental research, which is defined as research conducted at an accredited U.S. institution, published and disseminated broadly to the scientific community. Fundamental research exemption allows research communities to participate in research
